GREEN HILL NATURE RESERVE

Attention All Visitors

NATURE RESERVE ACT

Visitors are reminded that, under the Nature Reserve Act, it is against the law to destroy, deface or remove any animal, plant or property in the nature reserve. The penalty for any breach is a fine up to $1,000 or 6 months' imprisonment, or both.

Nets, traps and poison are strictly not allowed in the reserve. Littering is prohibited as well.

TIPS FOR VISITORS

As a safety precaution and to dispel any fear of getting lost, all roads and paths have been carefully labelled. The signposts in green indicate the names of the paths. The signposts in blue indicate the destinations. Rest areas are strategically positioned throughout the reserve. Five rangers are permanently on patrol. Visitors are advised not to carry transistor radios as the music may disturb other visitors and frighten the birds and other animals.
